OBITUARY.

Mr. Robert G. Hilton, Civil Engineer, in the employ of the Government on harbor work at Savannah, Ga., killed himself on May 19, by jumping from an upper veranda of the St. Joseph Hospital in that city, where he was a patient with intermittent fever.

Mr. Frederick Rawolle, former civil engineer, member of the firm of Marx & Rawolle, glycerine refiners, died in New York city on May 18, aged 62 years. He was one of the engineers who surveyed Prospect Park in Brooklyn in 1860, and later assisted in the survey of the Union Pacific R. R.

Mr. Samuel G. Ramsey, General Manager of the Peninsula Consolidated Railroads, died in Merida, Mex., on May 19. He was 52 years old, and was a native of Philadelphia. After leaving Philadelphia he entered the Northern Pacific R. R., becoming its Superintendent. He later became Superintendent of Transportation of the Inter-Oceanic Ry. of Mexico.

Mr. Samuel E. McElroy, Civil Engineer, dropped dead in his office in the Garfield Bldg., Brooklyn, N. Y., on May 22, of heart failure, supposed to have been brought on by an electric shock sustained two weeks before while boarding an electric car at Canarsie. Mr. McElroy was a native of Albany, and was 55 years old. He surveyed and laid out the route of the Continental Ry., which was intended to traverse the country from New York to San Francisco; but the survey ended at Chicago. The other prominent public works with which he was connected were the Sea Beach R. R., the Prospect Park & Coney Island R. R., the South Brooklyn Terminal R. R. cut, the Clifton, Gravesend and Parkway race tracks, and the New Utrecht and Flatbush sewer system.

Mr. Henry C. Draper, who was for several years Chief Engineer of the Chicago & Alton Ry., died May 23, from paralysis, after an illness of nearly a year. Mr. Draper was born at Louisiana, Mo., Feb. 3, 1845, and was in the service of the Chicago & Alton Ry. for about 30 years, working up from chainman to Chief Engineer. He commenced his railway career in 1868 as a rodman on the Louisiana & Missouri River Ry., now a part of the Chicago & Alton Ry. system. He was Division Engineer of this latter road from 1876 to 1892, and Chief Engineer from 1892 to 1900. After leaving this road he went with the Missouri Pacific Ry. as Engineer in Charge of Construction, and later he was Consulting Engineer for the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., of St. Louis, which company financed a number of railways. Mr. Draper was a member of the American Railway Engineering & Maintenance of Way Association, and the Western Society of Engineers; he was also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS.—The local members of the society who have in charge the preparations for the convention at Saratoga, N. Y., on June 23 to 26, have selected the United States Hotel as the headquarters during the convention. The various sessions of the meeting will be held at this hotel. A quite elaborate social program is being prepared for the meeting, and there will be numerous excursions to points of technical interest, such as to the works of the American Locomotive Co., and the General Electric Co., the water-power development at Spiers' Falls on the Hudson, etc.

WESTERN SOCIETY OF ENGINEERS.—At the meeting on May 20, Mr. W. W. Curtis presented a paper on "Timber Preservation." He estimated that in the 12 years previous to 1899 about 10,000,000 treated ties had been laid in this country, while the same number would probably be laid in the 12 months of the present year. This is due to the fact that railways cannot get the best wood for ties, and as untreated inferior woods give but a short life it is real economy to treat these ties, thus getting a treated tie at about the same price as a good quality untreated tie, or at even a less price. The author described the various preservative processes in use at the 16 plants now in operation, and pointed out the superiority of the creosoting process, although its cost makes it prohibitive in this country, where the treatment alone would cost about 32 cts. per tie. He considered the zinc and zinc-tannin the best practical methods now in use, for while other methods promise good results the experience with them is yet too short to allow of definite conclusions. Mr. Curtis described the tie-treating plant of the Ayer & Lord Co., at Carbondale, Ill., which has six cylinders 6 × 125 ft., and space for two additional cylinders. This plant was described in our issue of May 22, 1902. The paper was illustrated by numerous views of these works, and by lantern slides having thin slices of various woods, thus showing the structure of the wood without the aid of photographic reproduction.

WESTERN RAILWAY CLUB.—At the annual meeting on May 19, Mr. F. W. Edwards, of the Ohio Injector Co., presented a short paper on "Injectors as they are Met With in Railway Practice." He pointed out that more care should be taken in locating the injectors on locomotives, in using proper sizes of pipe, and in using hose connections of size suitable to the pipes. Many modern heavy engines have a 1½-in. or 1⅝-in. hose coupled onto a 2½-in. suction pipe. The injector should be examined and tested when an engineman reports trouble. This will often obviate the necessity of removing the injector, especially if the engineman is required to note the character of the trouble and the conditions under which the engine was working when the trouble developed. A somewhat similar paper was then read by Mr. Royal, of the Nathan Mfg. Co.

In opening the discussion, Mr. Peck (C. & W. I. R. R.) remarked that he does not use the boiler check on any of his 40 engines. Instead, he uses an angle cock 8 ft. from the feed inlet, which is fully as effective, and is safer and more convenient. He has not used any non-lifting injectors for several years. Professor Goss (Purdue University) thought it bad practice to couple two injectors to one delivery pipe, as is sometimes done. He thought the equipment should be duplicate throughout, so that one might be in reserve, in case of any failure to the other. Mr. M. K. Barnum (C., R. I. & P. Ry.) and others discussed the question of the best location for the injectors.

The Secretary presented his report, showing a membership of 1,108 members, and a cash balance of $883. The election of officers was then taken up, and the officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, D. F.

Crawford (P., Ft. W. & C. Ry.); First Vice-President, L. G. Parrish (L. S. & M. S. Ry.); Second Vice-President, J. A. Carney (C., B. & Q. Ry); Treasurer, Peter H. Peck (C. & W. I. Ry.); Secretary, Joseph Taylor, Chicago.

RAILWAY SIGNALING CLUB.—At the meeting held in Chicago on May 12, the first subject taken up for discussion was the consideration given to the block system in preparing time-tables for roads using this system. The Pittsburg & Lake Erie R. R. has automatic block signals 4,000 ft. apart from Pittsburg to Youngstown, and the installation has resulted in reducing the time of freight trains in getting over the division by 33 to 50%. Trains can follow one another very closely, and rear-end collisions have been reduced to a minimum. In a written discussion Mr. Paternall stated that on the 80 miles of automatic block signaling on the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. the block-signaling capacity is taken into consideration in preparing the time-table. On the Lehigh Valley R. R. it is found that under the block system the slow trains keep moving until given an order to take a siding, thus effecting a great reduction in the running time. Mr. Elliott (C., M. & St. P. Ry.) remarked that if the schedule was not arranged for trains to be run at least a block apart, they could not be maintained, as the trains would be held by the signals.

The next subject was the question whether introducing the block system increased the capacity of the line. Mr. Elliott said that on single track, with the absolute block system, the capacity would be decreased. With blocks four miles long, the capacity of single track is about 55 trains per day, but if trains were run at three-minute intervals this number might be increased to 75 or 80 trains. Of course, if the signals were as close together as trains might be run at such intervals, there would be no decrease in capacity, but such short blocks are rarely used on account of the expense.

The protection of trains at passing sidings was then discussed. Mr. Morrison explained that the Erie R. R. provides interlocking plants at the facing switches and an electric lock at the trailing switches. The lock is operated from the signal tower, and no signal is used with it. A telephone connects the siding with the tower, so that the conductor can be called to the tower to receive orders. No orders are given by telephone. Mr. Foster (Pennsylvania Lines) said that his road uses a similar system, but with the addition of a signal to indicate when the train is to pull out of the siding. He suggested that instead of calling the conductor to the tower, the orders might be telephoned to him, but Mr. Elliott and others thought this would be a dangerous practice, owing to the liability of misunderstanding.

AMERICAN FOUNDRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—The Secretary has just issued the program drawn up for the annual meeting which will be held at Milwaukee, Wis., on June 9, 10 and 11. The opening session takes place at 10 a. m., June 9, and is entirely given up to addresses and committee reports. At the afternoon session of the same day Mr. J. L. Gobelle, of Cleveland, O., will present a paper on "The Organization, Maintenance and Management of a Modern Pattern Shop"; Mr. A. W. Walker, of Boston, Mass., on "A Simple Device for Ascertaining the Average Silicon in an Iron Mixture"; Mr. R. P. Cunningham, of Holyoke, Mass., on "Foundry Control"; Mr. David Spence, of Chicago, Ill., on "Foundry Management"; Mr. J. A. Murphy, of Erie, Pa., on "Permanent Molds"; Mr. E. Richelieu, of South Tacoma, Wash., on "Continuous Molding"; Mr. E. Gilmour, of Peoria, Ill., on "Molding Machines." A third session is slated for the evening of the same day, with papers on "Retort-oven Coke for Foundry Use," by Mr. W. J. Keep, of Detroit, Mich.; "Note on Estimating Methods," by Mr. Wm. Hanson, of Philadelphia, Pa.; "The Molding Machine," by Mr. S. H. Stupakoff, of Pittsburg, Pa.; "Malleable Cast Iron," by Mr. R. Moldenke, of New York, N. Y.; "Employer and Employee," by Mr. S. H. Stupakoff, of Pittsburg, Pa., and "The Principal Factors of the Iron Industry in the Birmingham District," by Mr. S. S. Knight, of Birmingham, Ala. On Wednesday morning, June 10, the following papers will be presented: Mr. H. Souther, of Hartford, Conn., on "The Metallurgical Engineer in the Foundry"; Mr. W. E. Dickson, of Sharpsville, Pa., on "Loss of Sulphur in Borings of Cast Iron"; Mr. P. Longmuir, of Sheffield, England, on "The Microstructure of Cast Iron"; Mr. W. W. Davis, of Roanoke, Va., on "Blast Furnace Conditions Affecting the Chemical Condition of Foundry Iron," and Mr. H. E. Field, of Ansonia, Conn., on "Buying Pig Iron on Specification." In addition to these regular papers, several miscellaneous matters will come before the convention for discussion, thus: Methods for Determining the Constituents of Cast Iron, The Disposal of Waste Coke, and Recovery of Nickel from Scrap Anodes used in the Nickel-plating Process. Numerous social features have been provided, such as a trolley ride to West Allis and the Soldiers' Home, a theatre party, excursions to parks, breweries and other points of interest, and a smoker at the Hotel Pfister (the convention headquarters), with music and "the stuff that made Milwaukee famous." The ladies will be cared for by a local reception committee of Milwaukee ladies.—Secy., Richard Moldenke, P. O. Box 432, New York City.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS.—At the regular meeting of May 20, Mr. D. M. Andrews presented a paper on "The Economic Improvement of the Coosa and Alabama Rivers, in Georgia and Alabama." These two rivers if improved according to existing plans would give a waterway 786 miles long, for light-draft boats, northward from Mobile, reaching coal fields, mineral and timber lands, etc. A length of 116 miles on the Coosa River must be canalized to make it navigable, while the larger part of the Alabama River, into which the Coosa flows, would require constant dredging; the latter work is roughly estimated in the paper, but the main portion concerns the canalization of the Coosa. Four-foot and six-foot navigation has been proposed for this river; it was desired to find the minimum cost of canalizing by dams and locks for each of these depths. This involved determining the most economical lift per lock. For this purpose the author formed an equation expressing the cost of the locks and dams, with the lift of the lock as the unknown; the design of overfall dam, lockwalls, etc., on which this formula is based is as shown in the paper by sketches, and the unit prices used were taken from some work done on this river and from the Warrior River improvement, in the same state. This formula was written for 4-ft. and for 6-ft. navigation, and its value in the two cases calculated for different values of x, the lift per lock, from 5 to 30 ft. The minimum cost was for a lift of 23.2 ft. per lock in case of 6-ft. navigation, and for a lift of 21.5 ft. in case of 4-ft. navigation. This was also shown in the paper by curves of total cost for varying lift per lock. The existing improvement project contemplates a much great number of locks, with different lifts, and the author compared this project with the "minimum-cost" project deduced from the formula, in respect to first cost and operating expense. He then discussed the question of the water power which might be utilized at the locks, and apparently concluded that a sufficient amount could be realized from this to pay the interest on first cost and the cost of operating for the entire navigation improvement. While this is open to considerable argument, one may more readily concur in the sentiment of the closing paragraph of the paper:

> The time has come when the power developed by dams built for purposes of navigation should be used in the industrial development of the country. This being true, why should not the public at large, as represented by the Government, reap some of the benefits?

There was, unfortunately, no discussion of this interesting paper beyond a letter from Capt. R. R. Raymond, under whose direction the investigation had been made, in which he explained the present status of the Coosa River work as affected by the unfavorable action of Congress in its last session. He also stated that several applications had been made for water-power concessions on the Coosa and had been reported favorably by engineer officers, but that no action had yet been taken toward granting them.

The program for the annual meeting of the society, to be held June 9, 10, 11 and 12, at Asheville, N. C., has been issued. According to this program, the opening session will begin at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, June 9, when the society's business will be transacted. In the evening the retiring President will read his address, and an informal dance follows. The sessions of Wednesday and Thursday morning are given up to topical discussion of various subjects, announced some weeks ago in this column; the afternoons and evenings are occupied by various excursions, a reception and a concert. An extra session on Friday morning will give opportunity for completing any unfinished business or professional matters.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

THE MASURITE EXPLOSIVE CO., has removed its offices from 50 Broadway to Masury, Ohio; post office box 144, Sharon, Pa.

THE HARPER MACHINERY CO., Park Row Bldg., New York, has succeeded to the business of the Grant & Harper Machinery Co., dealers in new and second-hand machinery.

THE BUREAU OF EXPERT INVESTIGATION AND CONSTRUCTION, 35 Nassau St., which was referred to in this column in our issue of May 14, was organized by Mr. James B. Cahoon, M. Am. Soc. M. E., M. Inst. Elec. E., and his name should be added to those of the mechanical and electrical engineers mentioned as connected with the bureau.

THE INDEX OF THE TECHNICAL PRESS, Brussels, Belgium, has removed to 20 rue de la Chancellerie, Brussels. A. L. Vermandel and M. Fitzpatrick, Mech. Engrs., are in charge.

THE EXPANDED METAL ENGINEERING CO., 256 Broadway, New York, successors to the N. Y. Expanded Metal Co., has been formed for the purpose of engineering and trading in all that pertains to the extension of the use of steel reinforced concrete and plastic cement work.

IRA E. STEVENS, 303 Dearborn St., Chicago, has taken up the business of mining and colliery machinery and equipment. He has the agency for the mine haulage and ventilating machinery of the Robinson Machine Co., and for the car-loading machines at the Ottumwa Box Car Loader Co.

J. HOLT GATES & CO., 1436 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, have taken the agency of the Skinner Engine Co., of Erie, Pa. They are also acting as representatives of the Quincy Engine Co., of Quincy, Ill., for large Williams vertical cross-compound engines. This firm is now in a position to erect complete steam and electric plants.

THE M. GARLAND CO., Bay City, Mich., has shipped to Herkimer, N. Y., a carload of saw mill machinery, including a five saw Garland Gang Edger, having two stationery and three movable saws. The edger is equipped with two movable side guides, and two Garland's Patented Power chain guides. This chain guide is especially useful for edging hardwood lumber. Warped and crooked boards are engaged and carried through perfectly straight.

THE AMERICAN BLOWER CO., Detroit, Mich., reports among the larger orders recently received the heating and induced draft apparatus for the Ironton (O.) Engine Co.; drying outfits for the Ill. Sugar Refining Co., Pekin, and the Mich. Starch Co., Traverse City; dry kiln for the Mengel Box Co., Louisville, Ky., Brooklyn Cooperage Co., of New York; Buckstege Furniture Co., Evansville, Ind.; Evansville (Ind.) Desk Co., Cadillac Cabinet Co., Detroit.

THE PNEUMATIC SIGNAL CO., New York, has purchased from S. Marsh Young, owner of the Young system of automatic electric track circuit block signals for electric railways, all his rights for the U. S., Can. and Mex., and will arrange to place the system at once on the market. The Young system furnishes the same measure of protection for electric lines as the standard track circuit system does on steam roads. The presence of any pair of wheels on the block section, a broken rail or wire, or an open switch results in a danger signal. The signal company will organize an electric railway department, which will be in charge of Mr. Young, who was one of the incorporators and first Vice-Pres. Hall Signal Co., and for some years the Vice-President and General Manager of the Manhattan General Contruction Co. until he sold the company to the Westinghouse interests. The Pneumatic Signal Co.'s factory has been until recently at Troy, but it has now moved into the new works at Rochester, N. Y. This plant covers about 240,000 sq. ft. The system by which this company is best known is its low-pressure pneumatic system for interlocking and block signals on steam railway lines and is used extensively in Europe and America. Its entering the street railway field is a new departure, and it is the intention to bring all its experience in the field of steam railway signaling to bear upon the several problems which are confronting the management of high-speed electric lines.

Information concerning contracts to be let or of supplies to be purchased, and corrections of errors and omissions in published items, are invited.

Car Loader Co.

J. HOLT GATES & CO., 1436 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, have taken the agency of the Skinner Engine Co., of Erie, Pa. They are also acting as representatives of the Quincy Engine Co., of Quincy, Ill. for large Williams vertical cross-compound engines. This firm is now in a position to erect complete steam and electric plants.

THE M. GARLAND CO., Bay City, Mich., has shipped to Herkimer, N. Y., a carload of saw mill machinery, including a five saw Garland Gang Edger, having two stationery and three movable saws. The edger is equipped with two movable side guides, and two Garland's Patented Power chain guides. This chain guide is especially useful for edging hardwood lumber. Warped and crooked boards are engaged and carried through perfectly straight.

THE AMERICAN BLOWER CO., Detroit, Mich., reports among the larger orders recently received the heating and induced draft apparatus for the Ironton (O.) Engine Co.; drying outfits for the Ill. Sugar Refining Co., Pekin, and the Mich. Starch Co., Traverse City; dry kiln for the Mengel Box Co., Louisville, Ky., Brooklyn Cooperage Co., of New York; Buckstege Furniture Co., Evansville, Ind.; Evansville (Ind.) Desk Co., Cadillac Cabinet Co., Detroit.

THE PNEUMATIC SIGNAL CO., New York, has purchased from S. Marsh Young, owner of the Young system of automatic electric track circuit block signals for electric railways, all his rights for the U. S., Can. and Mex., and will arrange to place the system at once on the market. The Young system furnishes the same measure of protection for electric lines as the standard track circuit system does on steam roads. The presence of any pair of wheels on the block section, a broken rail or wire, or an open switch results in a danger signal. The signal company will organize an electric railway department, which will be in charge of Mr. Young, who was one of the incorporators and first Vice-Pres. Hall Signal Co., and for some years the Vice-President and General Manager of the Manhattan General Contruction Co. until he sold the company to the Westinghouse Interests. The Pneumatic Signal Co.'s factory has been until recently at Troy, but it has now moved into the new works at Rochester, N. Y. This plant covers about 240,000 sq. ft. The system by which this company is best known is its low-pressure pneumatic system for interlocking and block signals on steam railway lines and is used extensively in Europe and America. Its entering the street railway field is a new departure, and it is the intention to bring all its experience in the field of steam railway signaling to bear upon the several problems which are confronting the management of high-speed electric lines.

Information concerning contracts to be let or of supplies to be purchased, and corrections of errors and omissions in published items, are invited.
